26 Thirty three years ago to day, I commenced my sea faring life, it was on Sunday well do I remember it - never was I out sight of my home before. I went with a determination of making it my business. I thought I should go on about twenty years, when I should have enough to stay at home, that has been my wish enough or not a nough I am still here, if God will bless me this time and spare me to return home with help I will stay there had I a known before I commenced whaling that I should have been at it now I never should have gone, it is a long time to spend a up on the Ocean, trying to get ready to live it is a hard life to live, deprived of all enjoyments and comfort of home, was I then to day nothing could hire me to go a gain, there is an end to all things so I suppose there will be an end to this voyage and an end to my whaling
